THE HOST CITY - GLASGOW
Glasgow is Scotland’s largest city and is renowned for its culture, style and the friendliness of its people. Whether you’re looking for museums and galleries, great shopping or just good places to eat and drink, the compact city centre has it all.

Glasgow is extremely well served by transport links, including three international airports within 40 miles of the city centre and only an hour’s flight from London.

This year’s venue, the Technology and Innovation centre is a state-of-the-art facility in the heart of Glasgow, giving you the chance to experience all the city has to offer. If you plan to extend your stay and enjoy some extra time in this vibrant city, visit www.peoplemakeglasgow.com for some local advice.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND
The Conference welcomes all professionals within the critical and immediate field of care regardless of level or grade. The British Association of Critical Care Nurses is one of the largest Critical Care organisations in the UK and the BACCN Conferences have a reputation for delivering imaginative conference programmes that are educationally stimulating, informative, and also a lot of fun.

THE PROGRAMME HIGHLIGHTS
The BACCN is known for delivering diverse and cutting-edge programmes which include plenary sessions, interactive workshops, contributed talks, posters and simulation labs.

This year will be no different - keep checking the website for latest news and programme updates! www.baccnconference.org.uk
